Welcome to Marlborough, NY

Helping to keep the Hudson Valley Green with Farms

We welcome you to explore the panoramic views, picturesque working farms, and local culture. Our central location in the heart of the Hudson Valley means that we are an easy drive from New York, New Jersey, and Connecticut. Come Meet Me in Marlborough for a taste of our fresh produce: pick your own strawberries, cherries, peaches, grapes and apples, taste local wines, dine on delicious restaurant fare, shop for fine antiques, go horseback riding, pick the freshest flowers and stay the night for a wonderful weekend get-away at our hospitable bed and breakfasts.

Marlborough's Farming History

First settled in 1694, Marlborough's long and rich rural tradition can be seen in many small farms that developed in this area, as the rolling hills protected orchards from spring frosts, and the Hudson River provided easy transportation of fresh produce. Many waves of settlers came to Marlborough to farm. Our town's heritage includes a diverse blend of nationalities and cultures.

Meet Me in Marlborough

is a group of Milton and Marlboro farmers and businesspeople united to promote local agriculture and tourism to a regional market. Our goal is to sustain our agricultural heritage and farming landscape while promoting economic growth and stability through agri-tourism. We invite you to support local farms and farm markets and help us preserve the beautiful farmland in our region.

Buy Local

- Varieties are chosen for good flavor instead of long distance shipping qualities, so they don't need waxing to stay fresh.
- Fewer nutrients are lost between harvest and consumption.
- Support family farms and neighbors.
- Conserve farmland and local communities.
- Fewer miles are traveled reducing air pollution and fossil fuel consumption.
- Minimize your carbon footprint.
